

PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy explains the privacy practices for our websites, including the one you are currently visiting (all collective, the "Website"), as well as for our customer-related activities. It also describes the rights and options available to you with respect to your information.

The Website provides content and information about our products and service.

The user information we collect

The scope of this Policy is limited solely to your user information (including your personal information) processed by us when you are using our apps. In this Policy, "personal information" refer to any information or combination of information that can be used to identify, contact or locate a discrete individual to whom the collected information pertains (for example: Including any kind of photo images imported in our apps by the user, parameter information, shooting location, relative edit settings).

When you visit our Website, we will also record and collect certain non-personal information in relation to your visit and use of the Website, including: IP address (and the general location corresponding to the address), time and date of access, type of browser used, language use, links clicked and the web pages you accessed. Such information does not identify you individually.

Non-personal information can be used, for example, in marketing, auditing, to provide or to improve our services and also to develop new services. We may also use "cookies" to collect information. Cookies operated by third parties – Google (remarketing) and Facebook (pixel). These are used to track visitors like you across websites. The intention is to display ads that are relevant and engaging for the individual user and more valuable for websites and advertisers.

Other than the add-on, you can always delete the cookies saved on your device through your computer browser or your device. You can also disable cookies for future uses through the settings options of your computer browser or device.

How we use user information

Non-personal information can be used, for example, to understand how visitors use our website, and in marketing, auditing, to provide or to improve our services and also to develop new services. We may also use "cookies" to collect information.

We will use your Subscription Information to contact you about our products and services and keep you up to date with our latest marketing, sales, service tips and news.

The Information collected by the third party

Please note that our apps provided to you contains our service provider's Application Programming Interfaces (APIs) or Software Development Kits (SDKs), which have tracking tools of such service providers. It is these third parties to use APIs and SDKs on our apps to collect, store, use, and manage user information. We will not collect, store, manage your information.

The third parties may provide us with certain statistic data that must be based on certain user information, and these third parties decide which kind of user information needed in order to get the statistic data, also they decide the means of the processing of user information.

That's means, we only decide which third party's SDKs or APIs are going to be contained in our apps and what statistic data it needs; it is these third parties who decide which kind of information will be collected and how the information will be processed.

When and How We share User Information with Others

Except as noted below, this app does not share your personal information with third parties unless you give us your permission. We only share personal information with third parties in the following circumstances:

- In order to provide products or services you have requested;
- We require that these parties agree to process such information based on our instructions and in compliance with this policy;
- There are other instances in which we may divulge your personal information, such as when required by law, regulation, or litigation. We may also disclose information about you if we determine that such disclosure should be made for reasons of national security, law enforcement, or other issues of public importance.

If this app becomes involved in a merger, acquisition, or any form of sale of some or all of its assets, we will provide notice before personal information is transferred and becomes subject to a different privacy policy.

We may share with third parties certain pieces of aggregated, non-personal information, such as the number of users who searched for a particular term for example, or how many users clicked on a particular advertisement.

User Face information

Metadata is usually technical data that is associated with user content and can describe what, when, where, how, and by whom a piece of Content has been generated. When using our Services, we will use the metadata of the photos to provide more precise functions of facial Detection, eye-Points Recognition, region Segmentation, content Tags and the other customized function on the basis of the combination of the mentioned basic functions. This metadata is used to improve our Services and is NOT USED to identify and track our users individually. Additionally, we may from time to time with your consent, such as by the way of a special user program, collect and record photos to improve the technology behind our Services.

Information Security

We and third parties will take reasonable measures to prevent the loss, improper use of, unauthorized access to or disclosure of information. For example, some of our Services will use encryption techniques (such as SSL) to protect your personal information. However, you understand and accept that (in the Internet industry) even though we and third parties will take all possible security measures, we cannot always guarantee that your information is 100% secure.

We implement measures to reduce the risks of damage, loss of information and unauthorized access or use of information. However, these measures do not provide absolute information security. We and third parties do not accept liability for unintentional disclosure. You understand and accept that the system and communication network used by you to access our Services may fail due to factors beyond our control.

Information about Children

The third parties will not knowingly collect or request personal information from children under 13 (or any other age stipulated by law applicable to your region). If you are under 13, please do not send your personal information to us or third parties, including your name, address, phone number or email address. If you believe we may have any information about children under 13, you may send an email to. If we learn that we have collected personal information from children under 13 (or any other age stipulated by law applicable to your region), we will promptly take steps to delete such information.
